CONTENTS

1. Introduction

2. Web sources and programs

3. Types of data

4. Variables

5. Descriptive statistics

6. The shape of distributions

7. Distinguishing groups, the t-test

8. Correlations

9. Chi Square

10. Choosing a test

11. Significance – the traditional viewpoint

12. The new statistics

13. Confidence intervals and confidence levels

14. Effect size

15. Power

16. Conclusions

References

Appendix 1. Validity and reliability
Appendix 2. Type I and Type II error